Love has no alibi ...

This Sunday's Gospel is the story of the servants given talents - some preserve the small amount they have - as if fearful of losing. Others go out and use their talents to make more.

The fear of sharing in case we lose what little we have - its a very human reaction, especially in tough times. We want everyone to have a secure home, especially children; but we fear a budget that might affect our taxes. We want every refugee, especially the children, to be safe; but worry if our country has the resources to care for 'others'. We want every child in our children's school to feel welcome, but we want our child to have a classroom unaffected by others issues. Its human nature to worry that what little we have may be taken from us, but it can be a very destructive way to live.

Jesus expects more from us, calls us out of fear and into hope. So it is very appropriate then that this Sunday is the first World Day of the Poor.

WORLD DAY OF THE POOR

Pope Francis has inaugurated a "World Day of the Poor". The First celebration of that Day occurs THIS SUNDAY , November 19th. Pope Francis wants us to reach out to the Poor around us. He writes, "It is my wish that, the World Day of the Poor, which falls this year on 19 November, the Thirty-third Sunday of Ordinary Time, Christian communities will make every effort to create moments of encounter and friendship, solidarity and concrete assistance."

Reflection

O God, it is your nature .You give us yourself

In freedom we have received your Spirit.

Help us to freely give it away, then receive it back.

We want to say with the servant,

"You gave me two talents. I have made two more!"

Let us take part in your Spirit, and to share in your eternal joy. Amen.
